(For reference only)

Example 4 – Over on Means

Assuming the personal allowance for the applicant is $7,510 and assuming the financial eligibility limit for OLAS is $440,800

Financial position of applicant
Monthly income (gross)	$44,000
Monthly contribution to Mandatory Provident Fund	$1,500
Monthly rental payment	$16,000
Salaries tax for previous year	$46,260
Savings account credit balance	$200,000
Shareholdings	$150,000

Means test calculation

Monthly disposable income

$$\begin{aligned} &= $44,000 \text{ (gross monthly income)} - $1,500 \text{ (contribution to MPF)} - $7,510 \\ &\quad \text{(personal allowance for applicant)} - $16,000 \text{ (rent)} - $3,855 \text{ (salaries tax on a} \\ &\quad \text{monthly basis)} \\ &= $15,135 \end{aligned}$$

Disposable capital

$$\begin{aligned} &= $200,000 \text{ (applicant's savings)} + $150,000 \text{ (value of shares)} \\ &= $350,000 \end{aligned}$$

Total financial resources

$$\begin{aligned} &= \text{Monthly disposable income} \times 12 + \text{disposable capital} \\ &= $15,135 \times 12 + $350,000 \\ &= $531,620 \end{aligned}$$

Assessment

As the applicant's financial resources exceed the financial eligibility limit of OLAS, he fails the means test and is not eligible for legal aid.
